

Be part of our future

Remembering the St George's
Police Children Trust in your Will

Providing a helping hand if the unimaginable happens

A lifeline for your colleagues

Police officers are very often the first responders to serious accidents and dangerous incidents, which can sometimes result in the unthinkable happening.

The St George's Police Children Trust provides financial support to children and young people throughout their school years and in many cases, further education. Support is given to children whose police officer parent has either lost their life or had an injury/illness preventing them from being able to work.

After making provision for your family and friends, please consider leaving a gift for the St George's Police Children Trust in your Will. Whatever its size, your gift will help us safeguard the future for the children of police officers.

Sarah and her daughter Rhianna.

“The support we received from the Trust meant Rhianna and I could move forward and start a life together... It really was a turning point in our lives, giving me the boost to be independent.”

The difference your gift can make

Gift	Summer Grant	£500 could provide a child with a summer grant
£30 per week	1 child family: Further Education Grant	£1,500 could support a young person with their further education fees on an annual basis.
£50 per week	2 child family: Annual weekly allowance	£5,000 could support a two child family to receive a £50 weekly allowance

Be part of a better future

The nature of policing and life itself carries risks, injuries or even loss of life.

No amount of money can replace a parent, but financial support from the St George's Police Children Trust can make a real difference to the future for the children of police officers.

Leaving a gift to the St George's Police Children Trust will help ensure that we can continue to be there to provide a degree of financial certainty to the future for the children of police officers.
